

Guest Lecture on “IOT and Network Security” and IEEE Membership Drive

IEEE MVJCE STUDENT BRANCH organized a guest lecture on “IOT and Network Security” on 17th March, 2018. The event started with the lighting of the lamp by Prof. M.Brinda, Mr. Shyam Mandanapalli, Mr. Shrikanth Tangade, Mr. Prakhar Vighnesh after which Prakhar Vighnesh created a serene ambience with his devotional song.

The audience and the respected guests were welcomed by Parvathy B Pillai, Megha S and Nikitha S . Prakhar Vighnesh then welcomed the dignatories with a bouquet.

The first half of the session was engaged by Mr.Shyam Mandanapalli - Director IOT, NTT Data Services. He started his discussion with the importance of security in IOT. He then discussed about the Layers of Security in IOT which is extensively important to form any kind of technology. Later he talked about “New Protocols of IEEE which is under Development”. He concluded his session with an interesting topic called “Roof Computing”. Mr. Shyam Mandanapalli is working with IEEE to develop this new IEEE protocol of Roof Computing which is expected to be released in public domain by 2020.

The second half was engaged by Mr.Shrikanth Tangade who is the Branch Counselor of IEEE Student Branch at Reva University. Along with this he also holds the position of SAC Co-Chair at IEEE Bangalore Section. He emphasized on having an IEEE Membership while citing its advantages. He later shifted the discussion to various platforms based on which several IOT projects can be developed.

And finally to build enthusiasm amongst the audience Mr.Shrikanth Tangade organized a quiz. The people who answered questions in the quiz were awarded by the speaker. The speaker also took an initiative to sponsor the IEEE Membership fee of two members who had answered tough questions during the quiz.

IEEE is the platform by which the students can improve their technical knowledge , learn about latest trends and enhance their technical skills.

The event was concluded with a vote of thanks by Mr. Nandkishore K - Treasurer at MVJCE IEEE student Branch.
